Dedication

Your enthusiasm and love for teaching has brought science to life for us. Your support and involvement outside the classroom of all students and their activities has been felt by all. You are never without a smile or friendly greeting. We dedicate the 1987 Northem Light yearbook to you, Mr. Robert Albertini, for all you have done for us.

A OF PACE

Most of us see education as formal schooling to prepare us for the future. As a means to the end we are prepared by our teachers, so that later we may earn money, vote intelligently, raise children, serve our community and possibly our country.

The old North Attleboro High School, a community school, having become outdated and badly over-crowded, was replaced by the present facility.

The expanded curriculum demands time, funds and a varied supply of resources. Therefore, cooperation between the administration and faculty, and student effort, is the key to encouraging us to become responsible adults.

SPORTS

A change OF PACE

North Attleboro is proud of its well-developed sports program. The first football team was organized in 1921 at NAHS. In the sixties the Red Rocketeers joined the Hockomock League. Baseball and football provided the biggest interest in the early years. Competition was lively, as witnessed by the 66 football, school-sponsored, Thanksgiving Day games against Attleboro.

Basketball often dominated in the sixties. In the seventies Federal law and social demands accounted for the emergence of girls' sports, giving them the chance to compete interscholastically. Girls' track and basketball have become teams to be reckoned with. Discipline for mind and body makes sports a common meeting ground for boys and girls.

Fine season

The varsity baseball team, coached by Bob Guthrie, saw a very competitive season in 1987. Captained by Chris Roche and Steve Connolly, the Rocketters made their presence felt in the Hockomock League. They beat every team except for Canton. The year was highlighted by a victory over League champion King Philip early in the season. Iron man Brad Blackburn led an inexperienced pitching staff by compiling five wins. The crafty right-hander baffled opposing hitters with his curveball and knuckler. The team also did not lack for hitting. Power hitters Matt Cody, Steve Connolly and Tom Murphy combined for four home runs, as they drove in table setters Chris Roche, Mike Inglese, Tim Kelly, Scott DiFiore and Keith Meyer. The team completed a fine competitive season with a 7-9 record in the League and 7-13 overall.

Tim Kelly, Jim Kentros and Chris Roche seem to be discussing something serious.

Second straight tourney berth for boys' hoop

The 1986-87 boys' basketball team concluded a fine season with a 12-9 record and a second straight Eastern Massachusetts State tournament berth. The Rocketeers, a young team, started off slowly, losing several close games. But the team began to jell and overcome several nagging injuries on the way to winning 6 in a row and 10 of their final twelve games. They qualified for the state tournament by defeating archrival Attleboro.

Senior co-captain Rodney Lewis and promising sophomore John Mikulis earned All-Star SunChronicle honors for their efforts during the season.

The team will return with a strong nucleus next season, graduating only two seniors. Tony Lewis and Mark Liberatore will captain the team.

Play gets hot as Tony Lewis thinks about stealing the ball from his opponent.

They're the Champs - a dream come true!

Captained by Alyssa Gutauskas and coached by Rick Smith, the Red Rocketeers produced its third consecutive championship season. Their 17-3 regular season produced a share of the Hockomock League title, while their 23-3 overall record produced a State Championship. The Rocketeers won 6 games in the state tournament, becoming Division II South Sectional Champions, Champions of Eastern Mass. and eventually Division II State Champions.

Coach Rick Smith, retiring as head coach of the Rocketeers this year, was recipient of Coach of the Year of the Sun Chronicle All-Star team. He has been named to this 3 consecutive times, 4 times in ten years.

Four players from NAHS were named to the team as well as Mr. Smith: Seniors Alyssa Gutauskas, Stephanie Cooper, Heidi Deppisch and junior Rachael Routhier. Alyssa averaged 18.1 points per game, and 12 rebounds, while being the first female in the Attleboro area and the second athlete in NAHS to score 1000 points. Alyssa now has the most career points of anyone in the school's history - 1,111. Stephanie averaged 12.2 points per game and 10 rebounds. Heidi scored 9 points per game, 9 rebounds and blocked 60 shots this season. Rachael performed superbly at guard, averaging 9 points per game and 4 assists, as well as tying the school record for assists with 14 in the State Championship game.

Alyssa and Stephanie were unanimously elected to the Hockomock League All-Star team. Honorable mention to the Sun Chronicle All-Star roster included Shelley Stack, Tracy Westman and Carol Johnson.

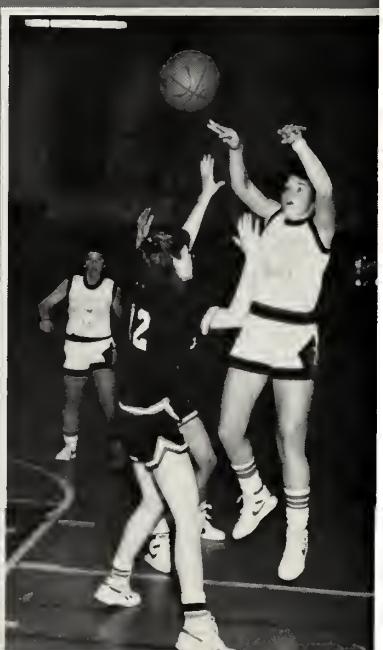

Alyssa received the MVP award: Stephanie received the Most Contributing award and Heidi was awarded the Paul Fernberg coaches award.

Hard work and good times . . .

The 1986-87 cheering season was a successful one for everyone involved. Both football and soccer squads began practice early in June to prepare for summer camp. Football returned to NCA at Westfield State College and soccer attended NECA at Brown University.

The Rocketeers shone at both camps, each squad receiving an abundance of awards for their achievements. Soccer walked away with plaques for Best Arm Motions, Best Mounts and Stunts and Best All-Around Squad. In addition, many members won awards for individual achievement: Judy McQuade and Leah Fisk for Best Gymnastics, Michelle Chagon for the Outstanding Talent award, Holly Desmarais for Most Enthusiastic, Captain Laurie Housman, the Leadership Award; and Laurie and Michele Webb, chosen as All New England cheerleaders.

The football squad, captained by Michelle Garrow, experienced equal success, winning the Grand Championships and the opportunity to compete in the Nationwide competition, held at Disney Land. Amii LeGendre was chosen as an All American cheerleader.

Obviously, soccer advisor Rita Boutin and football advisor Betsy Croteau had reason to be very proud of their squads.

What the basketball cheerleaders lacked in experience, they made up for in spirit. The girls, from both the football and soccer squads, enjoyed a fun-filled season and were coached by Rita Boutin.

The competition squad put in numerous hours of dedicated practice — and still managed to enjoy themselves. Their performance at Franklin High School reflected their hard work and potential as a first place squad.

The season was filled with new ideas and creative input from the girls. Their fund-raising fashion show was a huge success. A few additions to the traditional NAHS rallies seemed to get everyone involved in school spirit. The entire season was a blend of hard work and good times; a combination which worked well for these girls.

RUNNING - THE NAME OF THE GAME

Coached by Al Weintraub and captained by Derek Hayes, the boys' Cross Country team finished the season with a record of 3 and 5. The team, led by junior Mike Pestana, senior Derek Hayes and sophomore Gary Gardner, placed fifth in the Hockomock League meet. Pestana was elected to the Hockomock All-Star team when he placed sixth in the varsity league meet. Looking ahead to 1987 Mike Pestana will be captain.

A SEASON OF EXCELLENCE

The 1987 Red Rocketeers, led by Head Coach Ray Beaupre and captains Chris Arms, Mike Inglese and Steve Connolly, finished a very successful season with seven wins, two losses and one tie. The team came within one game of winning the Hockomock championship.

The season's most exciting game came against the Canton Bulldogs. Coming into the game North needed a win against Canton to have a chance to clinch the Hockomock title. The Rocketeers beat the undefeated Bulldogs 7-0.

In the annual Thanksgiving Day game against Attleboro, the game ended in a 6-6 tie. North played well, led by Mike Inglese, who had one touchdown and three interceptions on defense. Steve Carter had an exceptional day as wide-receiver, and captured the prestigious L.G. Balfour Offensive Player trophy for his superb playing.

Players who made the Sun Chronicle All-Star team this year were seniors Mike Inglese, Steve Connolly, and Jeff Tagerman and juniors Steve Carter, Keith Meyer and Dave Lewis. Receiving Hockomock All-Star status were Mike Inglese and Steve Connolly, who was also picked for the Boston Globe Division III team.

SHEER DETERMINATION

North Attleboro High School finally put together a JV girls' volleyball team. Last year the team was intramural. North suffered only one defeat to Bishop Stang. All the talent and spirit of the girls made the team strong and successful, achieving the recognition it needed. The girls had an excellent coach in Linda Marchand. Captains Sheila Marchand, Nancy Velletri and Linda Wheeler kept up the team's spirit all season.

Golf team, first row: Darryl Rodriguez, Garth Hobson, Derek Barber, Mark Laviano. Second

The 1986 Golf team had an excellent season, even though they finished with a 7-6-3 record. The team looked strong for the first half of the season, 6-1-1, but collapsed during the second half, 1-5-2, barely missing the Eastern Massachusetts Tourney, which is played in the Spring.

Brian Rodriguez was named to the Hockomock All-Star team. Although North did not have a single senior on its roster this year, Coach Art Nunes should have a strong team for 1987, as most of the team will be returning.

Young talent emerges

The 1986-87 Gymnastics team welcomed a new coach, Cindy Arnold, who, along with the leadership of captains Tami Davison and Amii LeGendre, delivered the team to a four win - eight loss record. With a new burst of young talent emerging in the Hockomock League, North unified its own talent and made multi-faceted gymnasts out of many newcomers.

The team, stocked with hard-working underclassmen, eagerly awaits its next season. Alas, in 1988, the squad will have lost a top scoring bars, beam and floor competitor in Tami Davison and a Hockomock All-Star, all-around competitor in Amii LeGendre, but their depth should hold them on firm ground.

Team awards went to junior Pam Taillon and freshman Jean Clinton, both first year competitors, for Most Improved. Amii LeGendre captured Most Contributing and Highest Point Total, breaking a school record for the highest career score over four years.

With Audrey Scott and Holly Burns as captains and Cindy Arnold returning as coach, the team is assured strong, hard-working leadership in the upcoming season.

Hockey dominant in last season

After many years of struggling, the North hockey program has ended, 1986-87 being its last season. The Hockey team skated dominantly at the junior varsity level. With Neil Harris coaching and led by high scorers, senior Darren Sloan, junior Dave Martin and junior Marc Laroche, North achieved an 8-1-1 record. North's one loss was to Canton. Even as a JV team NAHS was able to beat TriCounty and King Philip's varsity teams.

The team is sad to see the program discontinued, but have appreciated the guidance and unselfishness of Coach Neil Harris.

INJURIES HAMPER SEASON

The 1986 Red Rocketeers, captained by Craig Meekins and Glenn Pasquel, finished this season with a 5-10-3 record. Due to an untimely injury to Glenn Pasquel, Brent Sorrells, the team's MVP was moved from sweeper to rover where he led the offense. The defense was led by senior Craig Meekins, a 1986 All-Hockomock selection, from his sweeper back position. Brent Sorrells and Craig Meekins were both selected to the Sun Chronicle's All-Star team.

The Rocketeers will be captained next year by Mike Lamar and Jeff Forbes. With the return of 8 starters in '87, North looks forward to a successful season under Coach Ben White.

Championship season

Led by Coach Joanne Sizemore and Captains Stephanie Cooper and Alyssa Gutauskas, this year's softball team had a championship season. The girls started on a good note by winning their first five games, but suffered an early loss to League powerhouse Mansfield. The team continued to win the rest of its regular season games - except for a late upset to Canton. At the end of the regular season the Rocketeers captured an 18-2 record and the Hockomock League championship. Then it was off to the States! After defeating defending champs Dartmouth and Brockton, the girls were knocked off in the semi-final round by

New Bedford. The team had several selections to the All-Star Sun Chronicle team: Stephanie Cooper, Alyssa Gutauskas, Nancy Velletri, Tracy Westman, Kristin Pickering and Rachael Routhier. Stephanie Cooper and Rachael Routhier were also selected to the All-Hockomock team. At the end of the season, Linda Wheeler was given the Coach's Award; Stephanie Cooper was voted the Most Valuable player; and Carol Johnson and Rachael Routhier the Most Contributing players. Next year's team hopes to be even better, and it will be captained by Carol Johnson and Rachael Routhier.

Outstanding performances

The 1987 boys' Spring Track team finished with a record of 4 wins and 4 losses. The record does not truly show some of the outstanding performances that some of our boys turned in this year. The team was led by captains Chris Paradis and Derek Hayes. At the League meet, Chris Paradis (330 low hurdles), Brian Rodriguez (1 mile), and the relay team of Brian Rodriguez, Dave Hartford, Derek Hayes and Chris Paradis each gained All-Hockomock status. Only four seniors will be leaving so the team's future is bright. Rob Pell was also named to the All-Hockomock team as his performance merited. Rob proudly advanced to the All-State meet and represented North Attleboro well.

Good potential

The 1987 boys' Tennis team, coached by John Wood, posted its best record of the past few years. This season our team consisted of a mixture of experienced and new players. Again, it was a season of building with the hope that a stronger team will develop for next year, since a large number of underclassmen will be returning. This year the NAHS Girls' Tennis team, coached by Marcia Carman and captained by Becky Robidoux, completed the season with a record of 7 wins and 9 losses. Since last year's top singles players graduated, a new lineup was in order. Missy Peterson played first singles, Linda France second singles and Marimelda Llacuna third singles. Becky Robidoux and Linda France scored the most points for the team with their record of 9 points each. An award for most improved went to Kathy Famell. Looking to the 1988 season, Beth Iaconis will captain the team.

Steady leadership - Good season

In the third year of indoor track competition, the girls ended with a most successful season. Captains Karen and Kristen Violet led the team to a 7-1 record, losing only to Foxboro. Leading scorer, senior Tracey Elliott (71 points), became the fourth leading scorer in school history. She also added personal League championships in the high jump and hurdles. Karen Violet finished an outstanding distance career with 3 school records in her last 3 meets (1,000, mile and 2 mile). Tracey and Karen were selected League All-Stars, and Tracey was elected All-Star team captain. Kristen Violet (distance) and Cathy Onoyan (shot put) provided steady leadership in their events.

Six out of ten high scorers will return next season. Kris Puccio was the highest underclassman scorer in hurdles and high jump. Allyn Grantham (600) and Lynn Schromm (300) led the sophomore and freshmen scorers. Other underclassmen standouts were Laura Barrett (sprints), Tanya Everton (shot put), Karen Lake (shot put), Marion Grantham (mile), Lori Lind (2 mile) and Catrell Booker (sprints).

Next year's outlook is optimistic with Co-Captains Carolyn Dorr (300) and Deanna Marceau (mile) expected to provide leadership as well as dominating in their events.

Under the direction of a new coach, Mike Redding, the boys' Winter Track team ran to a second place finish in the Hockomock League with a 6-2 record. The highlight of the season, in order to gain second place, was a win over a very strong Franklin team.

Many team members went to the State relays, and the 4x50, 4x200 and 4x400 records were broken. Derek Hayes shone all season in the 1000 and capped off his record by winning the League meet. Chris Paradis was elected an alternate to the All-Star team. Rob Pell had a fine season, breaking the hurdle record.

ACTIVITIES

OF PACE

Extracurricular activities are a method of education. Clubs and organizations have always existed at NAHS as a supplement to the curriculum. Today they are more varied, such as ones with a cause (SADD), and some with only social advantages, but the majority asks the student to apply what is learned in the classroom. A student, who participates and is involved, tends toward better academics, leadership potential, group cooperation and has fun.

An incredible season

For the Drama Club, the 1986-87 season was an incredible one. The season started with the fall production of The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe. Following the trend of the past few years, auditions were open to faculty and alumni, as well as students. Besides a Friday night performance and a Saturday matinee, the cast did a Monday afternoon performance for North Attleboro fourth graders.

The next show was the festival of one-acts, presented in early February. Three student-directed plays competed for awards and recognition. The three one-acts were The Shelter, directed by Ann Miller, Cookie Grantham and Lynn Grantham; The Best There Is, directed by Beverly Griffin; and Home

The Club wound up their year with a wild musical version of Grease. The well-known 50's musical attracted a lot of attention, and the cast members were well rewarded for their month of hard work by two sold out performances.

The Drama Club's fantastic season was aided by advisor Judy Cobb and by the Club's officers: Beverly Griffin, president; Lea Deschenes, vice-president; Heidi Anderson, secretary; Kris Durang, treasurer; and Diane Fong, scribe. The Club made two trips to Trinity Repertory Theater in Providence, and many members attended the New England Theater conference in Boston.

Year starts early

The music department opened its 1986-87 session in August with an eight day band-camp to teach the members of the marching band, musicians in grades 7-12, the fieldshow. Their diligence continued through the fall as they entertained the fans at the football games and at the MICA marching band competitions at Sullivan Stadium. Drum Major Steve McAfee also led the group through several parades, including the North Attleboro Christmas parade, Memorial Day parade and the Little League opening. They also participated in the annual South Boston St. Patrick's Day parade. Each year the marching band is enthusiastically reinvited to this parade and are always eager to participate in this four hour, 4.6 mile trek among the heart and hills of Boston.

The high school Concert Band performed at Christmas, the pot-luck dinner concert, sponsored by the NAHS Band Parents Organization, and the Spring concert. They entertained with such popular composers as Grundman and Swearingen. Their audience was refreshed by the skill and enthusiasm with which they performed.

Several new groups were established this year: the Saxophone Quartet, the Flute Quartet and Jazz Ensemble. The groups performed periodically at schools and churches around North Attleboro.

Officers for the year were Brad Blackburn, president; Laura Calligan, secretary; Stephen McAfee, treasurer; Kristen Darling, senior representative; Ken Narkiewicz, junior representative; and Stacie Kimbrel, sophomore representative.

The annual Awards Banquet was sponsored by the Band Parents at the South Attleboro Knights of Columbus Hall. Guest speaker, Mr. Richard Castiglione, of the Boston Conservatory of Music, provided an exciting and inspiring presentation. Many jackets and letters were awarded to students completing two years of marching band, as well as pins for each year of participation. The prestigious John Philip Sousa Award was presented to Kristen Darling. Beth Livingston received the academic music award.

The year concluded with the Memorial Day picnic and softball game, put on each year by the Band Parents.

Reflected interests of students

Under the direction of advisor Russ Benson, the literary magazine staff produced two successful issues. The goal for this year was to create a magazine that reflected the interests of the entire student body. An active group of seniors kept Galadriel running smoothly, although a small but enthusiastic group of underclassmen contributed.

In March the staff traveled to American International College for a day of workshops and learning. We are looking forward next year to continued literary success.

The North Star received a new look this year. Under the leadership of Matt Dillon and advisor, Mrs. Mary Ellen Samma, the paper reorganized and began using computers to produce the copy and headlines. Seniors Bob Edwards and Kellie Zion have been totally responsible for the production of this. Other faithful staff members include Andy Abrahamson, Ken Chan, Chris Gioia, Joe Goulart, Jodi Leslie, Rich Romero and Michelle Wright. Lee Zion has also has been most helpful with the typing.

The one weakness this year has been the lack of underclassmen on the staff. Hopefully, next year this problem can be alleviated.

"A change of pace"

Chuck Heap and Cathy Onoyan, senior co-editors for the Northern Light, plan the opening pages.

Starting in September, plans for the 1987 Northern Light began to stir. Along with the editors, advisor Mrs. Jane Gallotta and senior co-editors Chuck Heap and Cathy Onoyan, "A Change of Pace" was chosen as the book's theme.

The section editors worked hard all year to make the book a success. Pam DiFiore and Tracey Elliott put together the underclassmen section. The activities' section was headed by Heidi Anderson and Becky Bliss. Sarah Mandell and Becky Robidoux made up the faculty section together, and Nancy Drought and Kristen Dyer designed the ads section.

With a cooperative crew of staff, photographers, editors and the able help of Jostens' publishing representative, Dan Smith, the book was finally completed in June. The year had at last come to a successful conclusion.

The editors and advisor of the 1987 Northern Light wish to thank the many students who helped put this volume together. We also extend special thanks to Dan Smith of Jostens Printing and Publishing and to Joseph Geoffroy of Chestnut Hill Studios. Without their aid, preparation of this book would not have been possible.

Successful season

This year's College Bowl team, under the direction of Mr. Vincent Baldasaro, had a successful season. Team members were seniors Heidi Anderson, Tom Grant, Charles Heap, Mark Housman, and junior Philip Holdgate.

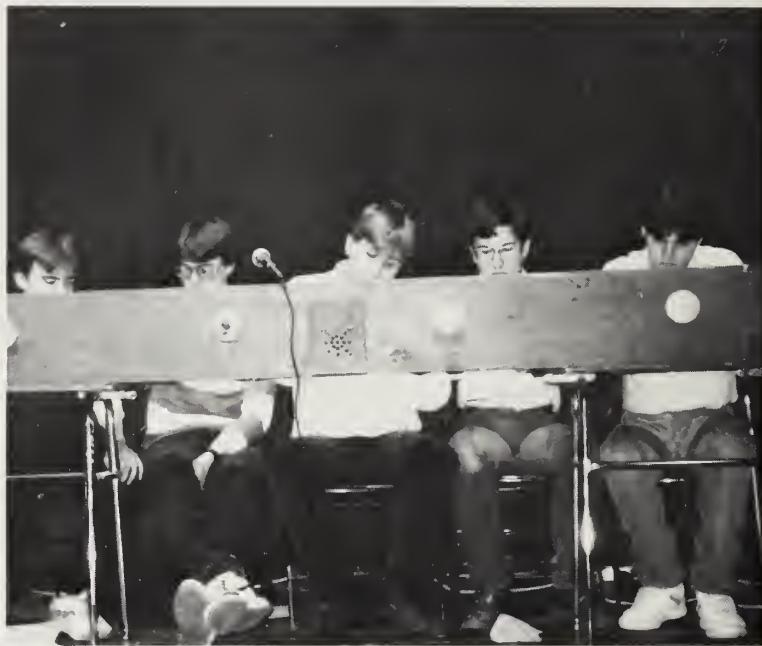

In the first match of the year, North won a narrow victory over Middleboro High School. Huge margins were amassed against Attleboro High, at home and away. In the meetings North scored over 500 points, while limiting Attleboro to under 100 points. The North group lost only once to a young Franklin team.

North Attleboro High School math students competed against other students throughout New England in the monthly series of six-question Math League tests. Each month, the top five scores from each competing school represent each school's team. The top scorer at NAHS this year was junior Pat McCann. Senior Tom Grant and junior Scott DiFiore tied for second place. By the end of the season, North ranked higher than ever before. In a first-of-its-kind Hockomock League Inter-School Math Meet, the NAHS team gained valuable experience for future face-to-face meets.

Terrorist take-over

Ten delegates from North Attleboro High School participated in the Harvard University conference, held December 11-14, 1986, at the Marriott Copley Hotel in Boston. Delegates representing Ecuador were Kim Siegwart, Paula Walsh, Becky Bliss, John Rijo, Rich Romero, Craig Donais, Tim Puopolo, Neil Chartier, Jason Boronski and Jason Gittle. Under the supervision of Ann Luoma, the delegates worked hard to pass resolutions in their respective committees. Caucusing was also a major focus of the weekend, and the Ecuadorian delegation preferred to caucus with fellow countries, Cyprus, Mexico and Sri Lanka. We did, however, manage to set aside some time for snowball fights, bowling, whiffle ball, Uzi attacks, and a highly successful terrorist take-over on the Legal Committee. Ecuador also had some unexpected air time on WBZ Radio 1030. All delegates enjoyed themselves while learning a lot, and are looking forward to next year's conference.

Second annual Science Fair

Our school held the second annual science fair in February. This year brought many participants from the science classes of Mr. Vito, Mr. Duluk and Miss Lechner. Judging was done by members of the faculty.

This year, sophomore Lisa Guillette won first place for her project on the effectiveness of cleaning agents on bacteria. Debbie Allen received second for her project on hydroponics, while fellow freshmen Lauren Fish took third for her project on the effects of cigarette smoke on plants.

The three winners, along with Kristen Nesbitt, Shawn Kelter and Gary Gardner, all attended the Region 3 Science Fair, held at Bristol Community College. Lisa, Lauren and Kristen all received Marine Science awards from the Navy. They, along with Debbie Allen, were all extended invitations to attend the state science fair at MIT.

Students unite against drunk driving

With the help of advisor Paul Klenk and eight interested students, Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD) was revitalized at the high school this year. Making up the SADD council were juniors Becky Bliss, Audra Bucklin, Scott DiFiore, Carol Johnson, Joe Medeiros, Tim Puopolo, Kim Siegwart, and senior Matt Cody. After several meetings the council held a sign-up for SADD during which over 100 students joined. SADD counted and tabulated results from a questionnaire distributed at the Junior High School, and also made a successful presentation at the Junior High School's Heritage Day. On May 14 a speaker was brought to North to address SADD, and a movie was shown on May 15. SADD hopes to have a float for the town's Centennial parade in June. Next year, we plan to increase SADD awareness and actively involve the entire student body.

North squashes the Hornets

The Homecoming rally was held November 7. During the rally the Homecoming Queen and her court were announced. The freshmen selected Debbie Allen and Kristen Nesbitt as their court members; while Nicole Aussant and Brook Laurence represented the sophomore class.

Junior court members were Tanya Everton and Kelley McPhee. Amii LeGendre was crowned queen, and her senior court members were Kim Babb and Richelle Burns.

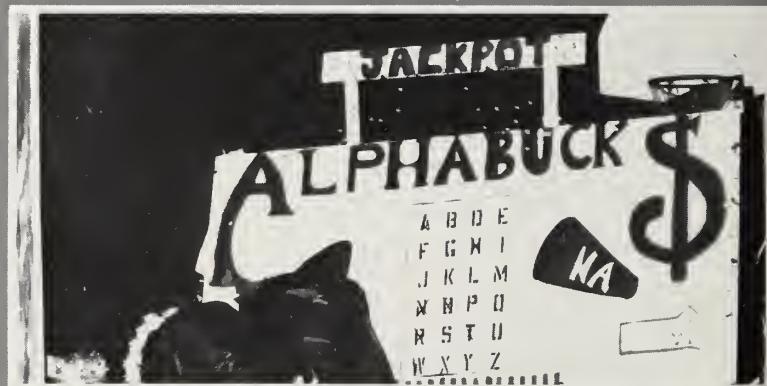

A game of Musical Chairs highlighted the rally. The game included two students from each class. Sophomore Mark Newport won.

The Homecoming game was postponed to Monday because of poor weather. The freshmen float won, with the juniors taking second and sophomores third. North crushed the Mansfield Hornets, 21-0.

Jets dominate Sharks

The annual Junior-Senior Powderpuff Football game was held October 18, 1986. The Senior Sharks were coached by John O'Connor and Jeff Tagerman. Matt Gaulin and Mike Sullivan headed up the Junior Jets.

In a surprise victory the Jets ran away with the game. Quarterback Carol Johnson directed an attack that led to three touchdowns. Tanya Everton, Laura Barrett and Deanna Marceau scored the touchdowns, with Carolyn Dorr adding on the extra points to the final touchdown.

With almost seven minutes left in the fourth quarter, the game was called on account of repeated acts of unsportsmanlike conduct. However, the juniors' expertise and determination was evident from the start. The final score was Jets, 20 Sharks, 0.

Service, goodwill and fun!

The National Honor Society leaped into the 1986-87 school year with great enthusiasm. Led by officers Becky Robidoux, president; Amii LeGendre, vice-president; Stephanie Cooper, secretary; Tracey Elliott, treasurer; and Laurie Housman, publicity, the Society became involved in many school and community activities.

The action started before the school year, officially begun when the group sponsored a car wash, held at the North Attleboro Junior High School. With the profit, a very successful craft fair was able to be held. It was called "Craftworks North" and will become an annual project for the Society.

In the fall, twenty-seven new members were inducted at a spaghetti dinner, held in the cafeteria. Eight seniors and nineteen juniors added to the strength of the twenty-one original members. In December all members scattered themselves around town selling ads for the yearbook. This was a first time venture, a job well done, and one which realized goodwill and much needed revenue toward the publication of the Northern Light.

Several costumed members went to Sturdy Memorial Hospital at Halloween to visit the pediatrics ward. A collection for town pound animals was also sponsored. December brought Christmas baskets which were given to two needy families in North Attleboro. The Society also ushered at Parents' Night, and ran the Student Council elections. In March, with much excitement, green and white balloons were sold to celebrate St. Patrick's Day. And in May an appreciation luncheon was held for the teachers.

With a year of hard work and great accomplishment behind them, senior members of the Honor Society spent a relaxing weekend, while white water rafting on the Saco River in Maine, chaperoned by Mr. Russ Benson and Mr. Bob Albertini.

Top honors for many

Mr. Vito stands with Science Fair winners Lisa Guillette, Lauren Fish and Debbie Allen.

After opening remarks by Rebecca Robidoux, Honor Society president, and Mr. Whitty, at the annual Academic Awards assembly on May 7, 1987, congratulations were in order for many students. Mr. Whitty announced that Thomas Grant and Kristen Svendsen would be valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively, for the Class of 1987. The Brown Book Award went to Sheryl Pearce, the D.A.R. Good Citizen Award to Rebecca Robidoux, and the Rensselaer Medal for Math-Science and the Bausch & Lomb Junior Science Award to Scott DiFiore. Awards for humanities were made by Dr. Oliver, Latin awards by Mrs. Thibault including the announcement of 28 new members to the National Latin Honor Society, Theater Arts by Miss Cobb, and Business and Occupational Education awards by Mr. Slowe. Awards for excellence in Physical Education were made by Mr. Paling to Christopher Roche and Tracey Elliott. New Honor Society members were introduced and class presidents read the names of students earning highest honors at least one term this year.

Active year

Once again, Mr. Wilson Whitty directed the Student Council through another busy year. The officers were Sue Billingkoff, president; Kelly Achin, vice-president; Kim Babb, secretary; Laura Barret, corresponding secretary; John O'Connor, treasurer; and Tanya Everton, sargeant-at-arms. Representatives from the senior class were Chris Paradis, Kristen Violet and Kathi Phipps. The juniors were represented by Dave Lewis, Keith Meyer and John Rijo. Holly Desmarais, Gwen Floyd and Sarah McKinnon represented the sophomore class and for the freshmen Kim Dyer, Jeff Kraskouskas and Jeff Nally.

Activities began with a successful blood drive in September. Then, in November, the Council sponsored Homecoming. December saw a candy cane sale and the annual collection for the "Santa Fund" took place to help a needy family have a merrier Christmas. In January the annual Father-Daughter dance was held and again was a huge success. Carnations for students and faculty were sold at Valentine's Day.

With the 1986-87 school year almost over, the current officers felt it was a good year, and wish next year's officers the same success.

The committee met regularly with Mr. Whitty to discuss such topics as allowing shorts to be worn in school, changing certain courses into honors courses, and extending the rights of students overall. The members also met with Mrs. Leary, asking her to make salads and juice available in the cafeteria.

Members of the Regional SAC this year were Jason Boronski and John Rijo. They attended monthly meetings in Lakeville to learn more about the overall school system.

Scholarship given

The officers for the 1986-87 Art Club included Amy Patterson, president; Kerry Ziergiebel, vice-president; Kathy Coyle, secretary; and Noelle Auclair, treasurer. Advisor was Ms. Carolyn Wachta.

It was an exceptional year for fundraising. At Halloween the "Treat-a-Friend" candy sale was a smashing success and provided considerable funds. Members also painted pumpkins. The Art Club decided to ring in Spring with a special dance. The "beach party" theme, complete with BEACH BOYS music and HAWAIIAN PUNCH, provided fun for all involved.

With the funds raised, the club decided to award a $500. scholarship to a graduating art student from the Class of 1987. A contribution of $100. was also given to the art department.

A Chinese dinner topped off a fantastic year, showing the Club's growing strength for years to come.

A Date with the Dads

The 13th annual Father-Daughter Dance was held on January 24, 1987 in the high school cafeteria. Cultures from other countries

On Thursday, February 12, 1987, the foreign exchange students took part in an assembly for junior and senior foreign language students. Rania ElFangry (Egypt), Trude Hogvold (Norway), Kenneth Chan (Hong Kong), and Eva Blom (Norway) showed slides and told about their countries and cultures.

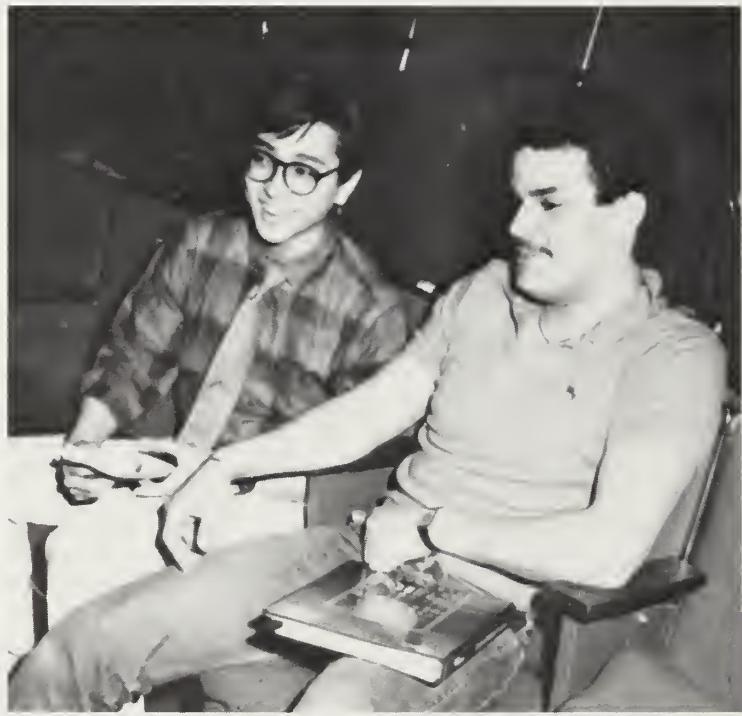

South Africa and Costa Rica were also represented by seniors Jenny Pearce and George Acosta.

Mrs. Balut assisted in organizing the assembly which was interesting and enjoyable to all. Let us hope we can continue the cultural exchange in the coming years.

It was another great year for the Latin Club! NAHS Junior Classical League is part of the Massachusetts JLC and National JLC. The officers for 1986-87 were Mike Pestana, president; Kerri Flanagan, vice-president/secretary; and Bonnie Fong, treasurer. Along with other club members they worked exceptionally hard to build one of the most solvent treasures in the club's history. A slave raffle and the annual Thanksgiving bake sale were most successful.

A party started off the year to welcome all members. In February, members of the Club viewed the classic movie, "Ulysses". Some members attended Junior Classics Day, held at Holy Cross College on March 5, where they listened to speeches and participated in seminars.

Latin students once again competed in the National Latin Exam. Twelve students received recognition for their good scores and three students received silver medals, depicting excellent scores: Shelley Stack, Lynn Sherman and Mark Foley. Also, the North chapter of the National Latin Honor Society welcomed 28 students. Advisor is Mrs. Phyllis Thibault.

"Project adventure" - aid to leaders

The physical education leaders are a group of senior athletes who choose to help the physical education teachers during the year. The leaders devote one period a day leading warm-up- exercises, taking attendance and refereeing games. This is good experience for anyone planning to further his/her education in physical education. The leaders also receive two credits per semester, and have a choice of doing this activity for one semester or for the full year. This year the leaders, under the supervision of Mr. Paling, attended what was called "project adventure". Here the leaders were able to mentally and physically challenge themselves, enabling them to become better leaders to the underclassmen.

UNDERCLASSES

OF PACE

The students at NAHS are not that much different today than when their parents attended high school.

Changes have occurred in a positive manner: curriculum choices, co-ed sports, more and varied extracurricular activities, no dress code, a more relaxed atmosphere, and girls are now encouraged to reach high in educational achievement. More social decisions are inflicted on students, some pleasant and some not so pleasant: strong peer pressure, holding a job, trying to do well in school, dating, to name a few. Students assess their values, use common sense, take nothing for granted, be inquiring and creative and look to the best possible future.

Freshmen

Elected as officers for the Class of 1990 were Richie Burns, president; Julie Fulton, vice-president; Jean Clinton, secretary; Mary Strachan, treasurer. Representatives to the Student Council were Jeff Kraskouskas, Jeff Nally, Kim Dyer and Debbie Allen.

The freshman class won first place in the Homecoming float competition. The slogan we used was "Put Mansfield in Its Place!" High school was not as hard as we all thought, and we hope for many great things in the years ahead.

Sophomores

The Class of 1989 was advised by Robert Aussant this year. Elected class officers were Dawn Hasselbaum, president; Lisa Fowler, vice-president; Jen Foster, secretary; Kim Charmley, treasurer. Representatives to the Student Council included Holly Desmarias, Gwen Floyd, and Sarah McKinnon.

We had high hopes for our sophomore year. The first big event was the float competition at Homecoming. On November 9, a thing of beauty emerged from Bob Miller's garage. Our float, however, appealed less to the judges, but third place isn't bad. We were supposed to have a magical Christmas dance, but all the students seemed to be busy that night. The dance was cancelled, but maybe next year Class dues were $5.00, in an attempt to raise our low treasury. A bake sale early in the year helped, but more is planned: car washes, bake sales and a bottle drive.

It has been an interesting year, and we are looking forward to being juniors.

In memoriam

The loss of Jimmy Kravatz made us all think hard about the life that we take for granted. It's something that none of us really thought about until now. When Jimmy died on February 9, 1987, he left behind many friends and family, who cared about and loved him very much. The pain, that those of us close to Jimmy feel, is something that we will all carry with us forever. Though time will ease some of the pain, it will never extinguish the feelings that we now fight to control. Jimmy was 15 years old when an irresponsible motorist took his life. He had so many plans for the future, and he was so very, very young.

He never got the chance to experience the dreams that he had. Jimmy's spark was his music. He had a fire in him to be the best possible musician. The world will never know what they missed. So, to Jimmy Kravatz we all say, not goodbye, but farewell, since goodbye seems too near forever. Until we're together again in God's heaven, we hold the memories of Jimmy close to our hearts and wait impatiently until we meet again.

Farewell Jimmy. We all love and miss you very much.

James V. Falcone 1987

"Never say goodbye"

As we grow older, and our lives go on, a night we will surely remember is April 23, 1987. Our Junior Prom, held at the Marriott in Providence, was highlighted by the selection of Tanya Everton as our Prom Queen. Her court members were Laura Barrett, Michele Webb, Lauren Harris, Michele Ronci, Tina Peterson, Kristen Dyer and Kelley McPhee. The entertainment for the evening was supplied by the band Positive Image. The prom was both successful and fun, and everyone looked great! Many thanks to Mr. Bob Guthrie, Mr. Don Johnson and the administration for helping to make this one of the great memories we will always cherish.

The Class of 1988 was advised this year by Mr. Bob Guthrie and Mr. Don Johnson. Elected to the Student Council were John Rijo, Dave Lewis and Keith Meyer. Tanya Everton and Laura Barrett were officers to the Student Council.

At the Homecoming game parade, the junior float placed second. Tanya Everton and Kelly McPhee were elected to the Homecoming Queen's court.

The junior class was tested right away in the annual Powderpuff Game. Reversing tradition, the Junior Jets, guided by Mike Sullivan and Matt Gaulin, defeated the Senior Sharks in a physical struggle.

The class made a substantial profit from a very successful concession stand, run during basketball games.

The most memorable event of the year was the Junior Prom. It was held at the Marriott Hotel in Providence, R.I. on April 23, 1987.

SENIORS

OF PACE

As September began, the Class of 1987 found itself on the "top of the world". Just ten more months of school until our release from the confines of NAHS.

The ten months passed quickly, although the days often dragged on endlessly. Decisions on colleges and jobs were made as Spring approached. As we neared the end, goodbyes were said, amid tears and laughter.

Join us, as we relive our senior year in a picture history.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS AND HISTORY

President - Randy Boutin
Vice-President - Sheila Marchand
Secretary - Kerry Ziergiebel
Treasurer - Kelley Jordan

CLASS HISTORY

We started our Freshman year of high school in the fall of 1983. We were all a little timid about entering North High for the first time. Soon after our arrival, Mr. Albertini stepped forward and offered to guide us through our first year. Steven Connolly was elected as president; Holly Bishop, vice-president; Kelley Jordan, treasurer; and Kerrin Corrigan, secretary. Kelly Achin, Sue Billingkoff and Kathie Phipps represented the class on the Student Council. Our float for Homecoming came in a competitive fourth place, leaving room for improvement. Holly Bishop and Kathie Phipps were selected to represent the Freshman class in the Queen's court for Homecoming.

With a year behind us, we began our Sophomore year under the leadership of Randy Boutin, president; Holly Bishop, vice-president; Kelley Jordan, treasurer; and Kerrin Corrigan, secretary. Our Student Council members were Sue Billingkoff, Kelly Achin and Kim Babb. The treasury increased with the addition of class dues and funds raised from our spring dance. Holly Bishop and Kelley Jordan were elected to ride on our Homecoming float which took first place in the annual competition. We also ordered our class rings during the year.

These arrived, with much excitement, in March.

Our Junior year approached quickly. Elected as the class officers were Randy Boutin, president; Holly Bishop, vice-president; Kelley Jordan, treasurer; and Kerrin Corrigan, secretary. Our Student Council members were John O'Connor, Chris Paradis and Eric Bellavance. Profits from a school sponsored dance and our basketball concession stand increased our treasury. During the fall we participated in the annual Powderpuff Football game, falling to the Senior Sharks by a score of 14-6.

A large portion of the year went into planning our prom, held at the Sheraton Inn in Mansfield on April 18. The theme song was "This Could Be the Night". Kelley Jordan was elected Prom Queen.

The court members were Michelle Garrow, Sandy Bainton, Kathie Phipps, Kerrin Corrigan, Amii LeGendre, Holly Bishop, Sue Billingkoff, Kristen Violet and Kim Babb. Our Junior Prom was the last in North High history to be allowed to use glasses as favors, in an attempt to keep students from drinking alcohol.

During our Senior year our class officers were Randy Boutin, president; Sheila Marchand, vice-president; Kerry Ziergiebel, secretary; and Kelley Jordan, treasurer. The Student Council members were Chris Paradis, Kristen Violet and Kathie Phipps. Amii LeGendre was voted Homecoming Queen; her court members were Kim Babb and Richelle Burns. We placed fourth in the float competition. In the annual Powderpuff Football game, the Junior Jets edged out the Senior Sharks in a high spirited game, 22-0. Our Senior Prom was held on February 19 at the Marriott in Providence. The theme was "Wonderful Tonight". Richelle Burns was selected Prom Queen and her court consisted of Kristen Violet, Kim Babb, Sandra Bainton, Krista Barney, Kelley Jordan, Amii LeGendre, Kerrin Corrigan and Kathie Phipps. As we bring our stay at North High to a close we would like to thank Mrs. Duhamel, Ms. Lechner, Mr. Guthrie, Mr. Albertini and Mrs. Balut for all their help and infinite patience through four years. It did not go unappreciated. "The more you are, the more you will become", was our Senior motto, and it promised great things for our future.

“Wonderful tonight”

On February 19, 1987, almost the entire senior class attended the Senior Prom at the Marriott Hotel in Providence, R.I. After a filling meal of stuffed chicken, the students and their dates “hit” the dance floor. The music was supplied by “Mystique”, who did a super job playing the theme song, “Wonderful Tonight”, and an even better one playing “The Chicken Dance”. Overall, the atmosphere was festive, lively and quite entertaining to all.

The Queen, her court and escorts: Kristen Violet and Mike Flores, Kim Babb and Matt Cody, Sandra Bainton and Brock Newman, Queen Richelle Burns and Ron Delfino, Krista Barney and Kevin Forbes, Kelley Jordan and Steve Shepard, Amii LeGendre and Eric Neilson, Kerrin Corrigan and John O’Connor, Kathie Phipps and Jason Berg.

Brad Blackburn suspiciously eats his dinner.

A crowded dance floor is filled with energetic prom-goers.

Jenny Alix and Scott DiFiore seem to handle the dip well.

Randy Boutin and Stacy Armstrong flash a quick smile before their meal.

Lea Deschenes sits casually, waiting for her date to return.

Pizza and more!

Tracey Elliott and Amy Patterson create a masterpiece from the day's lunch, as Laurie Housman looks on.

Dave DelVecchio washes down a pizza with some old-fashioned Classic Coke.

As a part of Senior week, the annual pizza party was held on June 4, 1987. A good portion of the senior class crowded into the cafeteria to munch on an enormous amount of pizza and gallons of soda. Due to bad weather, the Faculty-Student softball game was cancelled. A few quick thinkers came up with the idea of a big Twister game. A few games were gathered, and many students spent the remainder of the afternoon in all sorts forms and positions.

Glenn Pasquel and Sheila Marchand bring in the day's feast.

Twister turned out to be a good substitute for softball.

Sue Billingkoff and Sandy Bainton help clean up after a fun party.

Food, dance, and friends

Glenn Pasquel and Tammy Sawyer escape the receiving line to have their picture taken.

The Class of 1987 officially began graduation activities on June 3. This was the night of the Senior Reception, held at the Sheraton Mansfield. After an excellent meal, the seniors lined up in a receiving line to be congratulated by parents, faculty and friends. The evening ended with a night of dancing to the sounds of "Positive Image".

Mr. Francis Leary, Chairman of the School Committee, works his way down the line to congratulate the students.

A big portion of the night was taken up by dancing.

As it usually works out, many friends stand side by side to pass the time in line.

Tracy Westman looks high to see her partner, Rodney Lewis.

Class Night 1987

On June 5, 1987, the annual, formal Class Night was held in the gymnasium. Randy Boutin, senior class president, made the opening comments and introduced the essayists. The three who spoke were Jennifer Alix, "A Movement Towards Reality"; Matthew Dillon, "Becoming Aware"; and Kristin Pickering, "Ice Castles".

The Principal's Awards were presented to those seniors who made the honor roll all four marking periods for all four years in high school. Six individuals were recognized: Rosanne Achin, Stephanie Cooper, Mark Foley, Thomas Grant, Mark Housman and Amii LeGendre. Mr. Pickering distributed the President's Academic Fitness Awards to fourteen students. Kristen Darling and Kristin Pickering both received Honors Scholar Awards from Salem State College and Stonehill College, respectively. The Merle Crockett Award was earned by Rebecca Robidoux, who gave great service to her class, school and community. Chuck Heap and Cathy Onoyan, co-editors of the 1987 Northern Light, made the dedication to an appreciative Mr. Robert Albertini. A slide presentation, put together by Paul Casale, Tracey Elliott, Rebecca Robidoux and Cheryl Shepard, displayed many special moments for the Class of 1987. The program was concluded by the singing of the Class Ode, "Hand in Hand" by Heidi Anderson.

Following the program, a modest reception was held in the cafeteria for students, parents and friends.

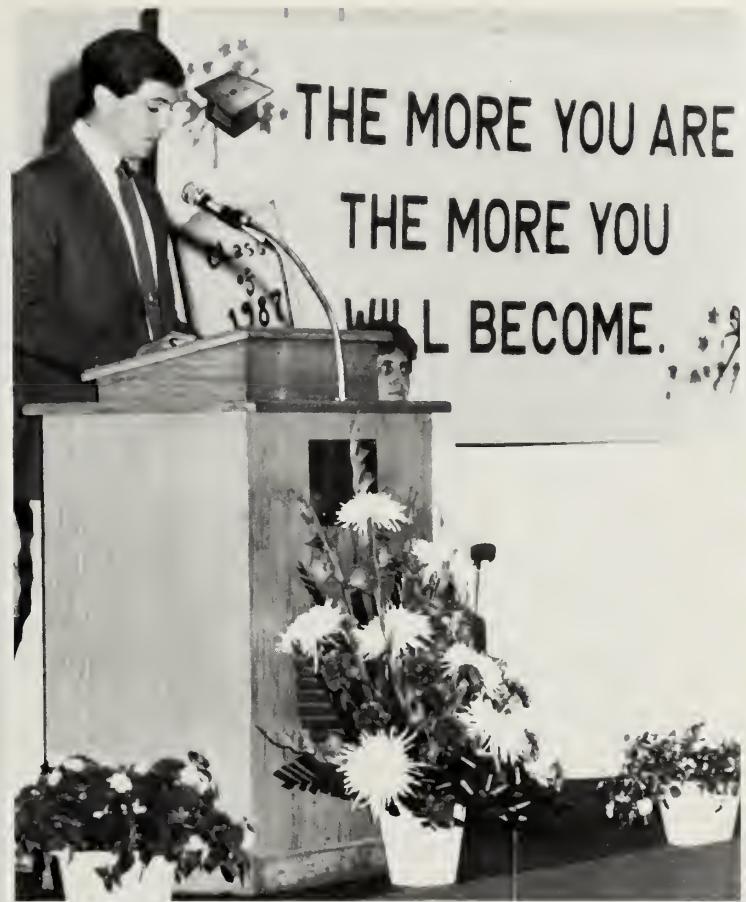

Rosanne Achin receives the coveted Principal's Award.

Tom Grant receives the Principal's Award.

Cathy Onoyan and Chuck Heap announce the dedication of the yearbook, Mr. Robert Albertini.

Rebecca Robidoux is pleased with the Merle Crockett Award.

Class officers Randy Boutin and Sheila Marchand lead the processional.

The Class of 1987 march out to "Sine Nomine".

Joe Jette and Mark Housman look over the program.

Graduation

On June 7, 1987, the Class of 1987 was greeted with a sunny, although windy day, which allowed an outside graduation.

Tom Grant's valedictory essay, entitled "The Importance of Trying", stressed that everyone, from nuclear physicist to plumber, do his/her best every time. Salutatorian Kristen Svenson's speech, "Being Yourself", advised each person to develop into his/her own person, and not pretend to be someone else. The commencement speaker was Attleboro District Court Magistrate, Daniel J. Sullivan.

"For Just a Moment" was sung by twelve senior girls. Academic awards were presented by Dr. Olivier and Mr. Slowe. The Athletic Cups were awarded to Steve Connolly and Stephanie Cooper for excellence in sportsmanship, leadership, athletic skill and scholarship.

After the awarding of $78,938. in scholarships to 45 students, the long awaited diplomas were presented by School Committee chairman Francis Leary. Finally, the Class Ode was performed, written and sung by Heidi Anderson.

The students from the Class of 1987 now diffuse in a multitude of directions to expand on their horizons.

Mary Burke brings along a "friend" for company.

Tom Grant delivers his powerful speech, titled "The Importance of Trying".

Class President, Randy Boutin, addresses the students and guests.

Tim Gagnon drifts away during the exercises.

The traditional graduation excitement.

A few 1987 graduates ham it up and show a new way to wear mortarboards.

"Being Yourself" is salutatorian Kristen Svensen's address.

Tammy Sawyer happily holds on to her long-awaited diploma.

Slightly nervous graduates march onto the field.

Chuck Heap receives his diploma from Francis Leary.

Heidi Anderson sings the Class Ode, "Hand in Hand".

Superintendent William Kelly speaks to the guests.

Stephanie Cooper and Linda Wheeler carry a bouquet of balloons - both a graduation and a birthday present!

Mike Dion, Joe Jette and Derek Hayes smile a sigh of relief.

Craig Desrosiers loans his cap to a future graduate.

Students in awe, look over their new pride.

The Class of 1987 always find time for a laugh.

OF PACE

In order to subsidize the annual publication of the Northern Light yearbook, businesses and individuals in the Attleboros have been solicited by the students over the years. This kind of advertising provides good will for businesses and community support and interest in North Attleboro High School. Without this backing and willing interest from the community, we could not produce the quality book that we have.

STATE CHAMPS

After a mediocre start to the season, 6-3, the girls' basketball team showed their true colors, capturing a share of the Hockomock League title for the third consecutive year. Once into the South Sectionals, the Rocketeers never looked back, quickly dismantling their first three opponents. There were many heart-stopping moments, but the winning results were the same.

Under the leadership of Captain Alyssa Gutauskas, whose strength under the boards was felt by all opponents, North Attleboro captured the state championship over Athol, 70-61. The sweet shooting of Heidi Deppisch and the rebounding of Stephanie Cooper doomed the opposition. With Rachael Routhier emerging as a premier Division II playmaker, and the talented trio of Tracy Westman, Carol Johnson and Shelley Stack at guard to complete the team, there was no stopping the Red Rocketeers.

The corner stone of this team was Coach Rick Smith, who was able to mold these talented individuals into a cohesive unit. Mr. Smith was treated to the awesome feat of seeing his team win the state championship in his final year of coaching.

To the girls, who carried our hearts to the Centrum, and the Coach who enabled them to do it, congratulations and thank you for the memories!

AIDS

AIDS is quickly developing into the same scourge in the 1980's that the Black Plague was to the 1300's. At the end of 1986 more than 29,000 Americans had fallen victim to AIDS. By 1991 an estimated 270,000 will have been stricken, and 179,000 will have died from AIDS. These are the official figures being used, although experts consider them to be substantially low.

AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome) is a virus which attacks the body's immunity system. As yet no cure has been found. A new drug, AZT, has recently been discovered to hinder, but not to stop the effects of AIDS. The virus may lay dormant for up to ten years before symptoms appear.

AIDS has reorganized the event of casual sex. In primary danger from AIDS are homosexuals, intravenous drug users, prostitutes and their sexual partners. However, AIDS is no longer a disease of them, but a disease of us.

IRANGATE

The announcement of the arms-for-hostages deals with Iran came as a shock to all in November 1986. The nation was left wondering who really was running the country. Many felt that Ronald Reagan's presidency would suffer extensive damage from the involvement.

Marine Lt. Colonel Oliver North had set up the deal under the auspices of the National Security Agency. He sold arms to Iran through Israel and donated the profits to the Nicaraguan Contra rebels. Vice-Admiral Poindexter had been given only vague details by North.

President Reagan's policy of leaving details to others had hurt him dearly. His excuse for what occurred was one of ignorance, having no idea what was happening.

With the release of the Tower Commission report in March, the President began to regain his strength. He apparently has recovered fully from his close scrape with the public, but the question of who is really in charge still lingers in the back of many minds.

LADY TURNS 100

On July 3, 1986, the nation's ultimate party experience began. The celebration was held in honor of the Statue of Liberty's 100th birthday. Lasting for four days, the party included a two million dollar firework's display, the Tall Ship's parade and "more stars than there are in heaven."

David Wolper, a veteran of hundreds of films, and who opened and closed the 1984 Olympics, organized this spectacular. It took close to a year of hard work and the dedication of tens of thousands of people.

The event was a commercial as well as a public success. An estimated six million people travelled to New York City to join in the festivities. The TV rights were sold to ABC for 10 million dollars, who in turn sold 30 million dollars in advertisements. Hundreds of products, bearing the image of Lady Liberty, emerged, from peanuts to umbrellas.

The celebration was one the American people will remember for years to come.
